CAN YOU SOLVE THIS RIDDLE?

An old man wanted to leave all of his money to one of his three sons but he didn't know which one he should give it to. He gave each of them a few coins and told them to buy something that would be able to fill their living room. The first man bought straw but there was not enough to fill the room. The second bought some sticks but they still did not fill the room. The third man bought two things that filled the room so he obtained his father's fortune. What were the two things that the man bought?

ROTARY WISDOM

If we continue to think and live as if we belong only to different cultures and different religions, with separate missions and goals, we will always be in self-defeating competition with each other.

Once we realize we are all members of humanity, we will want to compete in the spirit of love.

LYNN BLODGETT

On March 24, 2014, Lynn Blodgett announced that he is retiring from Xerox, effective December 31, 2014. Blodgett will continue with the company as a corporate executive vice president, assisting in a seamless transition to his successor, Bob Zapfel.

Blodgett was appointed to president of Xerox Services in January 2012. Prior to this appointment, he was president and chief executive officer of Affiliated Computer Services, Inc., A Xerox Company. He served as the leader of ACS – Affiliated Computer Services, Inc. – since November 2006. He was appointed a corporate executive vice president of Xerox when the company acquired ACS in February 2010.

Blodgett was instrumental in building ACS into the world's largest diversified business process outsourcing (BPO) and information technology (IT) services company with $6.5 billion of annual revenue and 78,000 people worldwide. In 2009, he was inducted in the International Association of Outsourcing Professionals' Hall of Fame for his work to transform the industry.

Prior to his appointment of president and CEO, he was executive vice president and chief operating officer. In this position, he was responsible for the company's broad-based business process outsourcing and information technology operations and solutions delivered to commercial and government markets.

Blodgett is a pioneer in the BPO market. In 1985, he and his brother co-founded Unibase, a data entry company acquired by ACS in 1996. The acquisition expanded ACS' capabilities in the relatively new BPO services arena. ACS created an entire service segment dedicated to delivering superior BPO solutions, and today this business unit is core to ACS' complete BPO service offerings. ACS has consistently grown and now delivers comprehensive BPO and IT solutions to all major industries and supports client operations in 100 countries.

Blodgett attended Brigham Young University and the Utah Technical College.

AN ODE TO AUTUMN

O Autumn, laden with fruit, and stain'd
With the blood of the grape, pass not,
but sit beneath my shady roof; there thou may'st rest, and tune thy jolly voice to my fresh pipe, and all the daughters of the year shall dance! Sing now the lusty song of fruits and flowers.

"The narrow bud opens her beauties to The sun, and love runs in her thrilling veins; blossoms hang round the brows of morning, and flourish down the bright cheek of modest Eve, Till clust'ring Summer breaks forth into singing, and feather'd clouds strew
flowers round her head.

"The spirits of the air live in the smells
Of fruit; and Joy, with pinions light, roves round the gardens, or sits singing
in the trees."

Thus sang the jolly Autumn as he sat,
Then rose, girded himself, and o'er the bleak Hills fled from our sight; but left his golden load.

William Blake
(Poetical Sketches, 1783)
